

Strength. From the inside out.

We know air-barrier technology — after all, we invented butyl rubber in 1937. Since then, we've continued to propel innovations in advanced inner liner technologies, services and products around the world.

And we remain committed to providing only the highest-quality halobutyl, because we know that when the rubber meets the road, it's what's on the inside that counts.

Energy lives here™

ExxonMobil

butylrubber.com